

The BARPI's website "ARIA", initially created in 2001, has been profoundly updated. To offer you the best satisfaction, a new version has been launched in June 2017. This document presents you an overview of its main new functionalities.

The new ARIA website in a few words:

- A secured access via HTTPS protocol
- Entirely bilingual contents (French/English)
- A interface now perfectly compatible with smartphones and computing tablets thanks to a "responsive design"
- A simplified access to the information thanks to the « Accidentology » menu and its "sectorial", "thematic" and "geographic" sub-sections

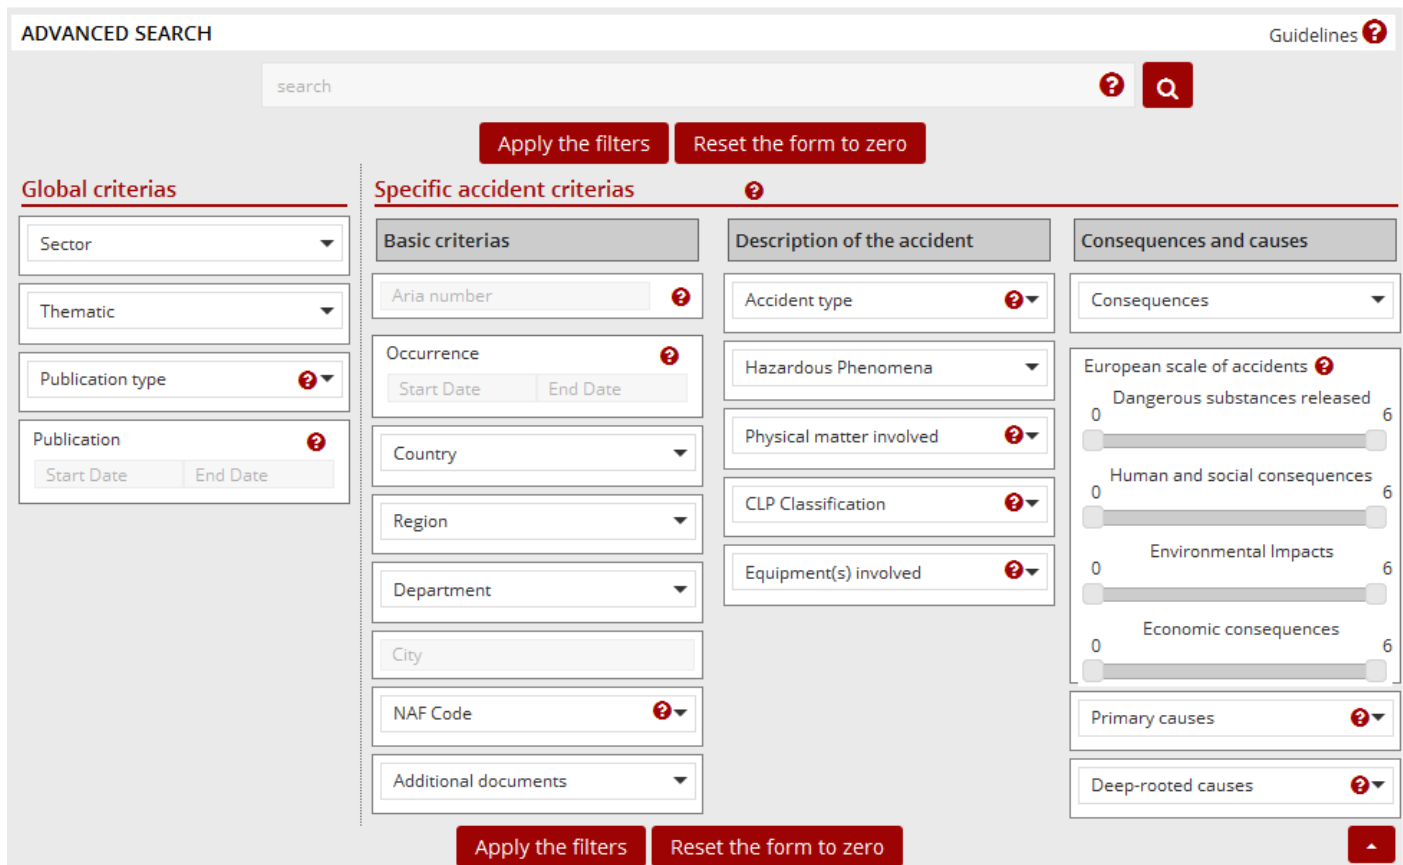

- An entirely revamped search engine :
 - Search by key-word using the search bar on the main banner of each page. The searched word is highlighted in the results list.

Access to the advanced search

Simple search

- Advanced search offering new filters and criteria (for example: physical matters involved, equipment involved... in the accidents).

ADVANCED SEARCH Guidelines ?

search ? Q

Apply the filters Reset the form to zero

Global criterias	Specific accident criterias ?
Sector	Basic criterias	Description of the accident	Consequences and causes
Thematic	Aria number ?	Accident type ?	Consequences
Publication type ?	Occurrence ?	Hazardous Phenomena	European scale of accidents ?
Publication ?	Start Date End Date	Physical matter involved ?	Dangerous substances released 0-6
Start Date End Date	Country	CLP Classification ?	Human and social consequences 0-6
	Region	Equipment(s) involved ?	Environmental Impacts 0-6
	Department		Economic consequences 0-6
	City		Primary causes ?
	NAF Code ?		Deep-rooted causes ?
	Additional documents

Apply the filters Reset the form to zero ▲

Key advantages of the new search engine:

- Search among all contents of the website (publications and accidents) and not only among accidents summaries (as it was the case previously)
- Results sorting by relevance
- Possibility to save your searches for future modification
- Possibility to export your results in .pdf or .csv format
- Possibility to subscribe to be notified in case of new results

These functionalities are available after authentication on the website. It is necessary to create an account at the occasion of your first visit. It is entirely free !

Log in to be able to save this search and export its results.

Click here to log in

- With the « connected » mode, you have the opportunity to customise your profile: complete you interests (themes, activity sectors) and subscribe to receive targeted notifications in case of new updates that could be of interest to you (publications and accident summaries).

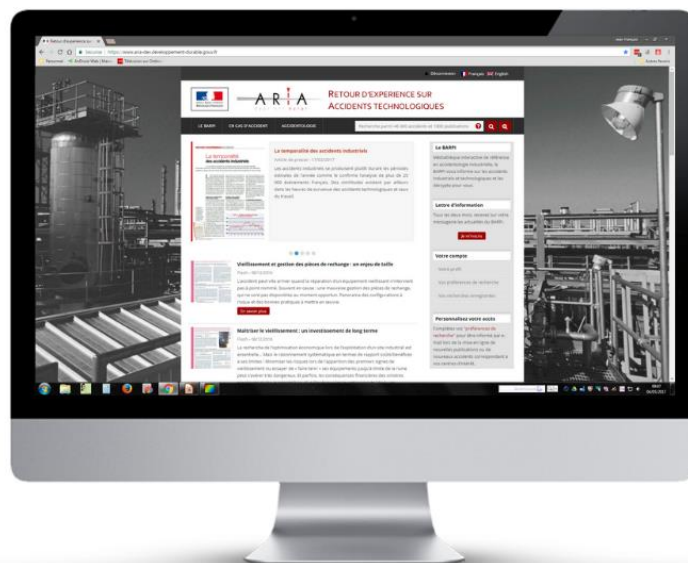

Your account

Your profile

Your searches

Your search preferences

Enjoy you navigation on aria.developpement-durable.gouv.fr !

For any question, contact us at the following address barpi@developpement-durable.gouv.fr